Which landscape job

is right for me?

There are opportunities in landscape for all sorts of people. Whether you're a natural socialiser or an introvert, a creative type or a science geek, you'll find a career you love. To succeed in any landscape job, you'll need to be motivated by making the world a better place – for people and the environment.

Which of these sounds most like you?

The dreamer

You were born to create and are never far from your notepad, sketchbook or camera. When there's a problem to be solved, you think big – no idea is too ambitious. You're a multi-tasker.

Find a landscape course

There are courses for all areas of landscape, from landscape architecture and urban design to environmental conservation and ecology. Each university course has its own focus and selling points – so now's the time to do your research. All the courses listed here are accredited by the Landscape Institute. Accreditation is a mark of quality, so it helps you see which courses will best prepare you for a career in landscape.
