

80% success rate in Pathway to Chartership May 2014 exams

39 Landscape Institute members successfully completed the Pathway to Chartership in the May exams this year.

A total of 48 candidates sat the May 2014 P2C exam, on average spending between 2-3 years on the Pathway system. The exams, carried out in London and Manchester over 3 days, saw an 80% pass rate.

A new, revised exam syllabus was carried out for the first time in the May exam. This syllabus intended to simplify the approach whilst maintaining standards.

“There was a lot of positive feedback from the candidates and their employers, which validates the new approach to the syllabus, and the expertise of our examiners ” says Chris Sheridan, Head of Education and Membership.

“There was a variety of age and experience amongst this year’s candidates, with some currently working internationally. We are proud of the expertise these candidates have demonstrated and the increasingly international approach of our members and what they do.”
